Baghdad, January 4 (RHC)-- Iraqi Army forces have been putting more pressure on Islamic State terrorists in the eastern province of Mosul, capturing two more districts in the Arab country.

Security forces report that the Iraqi advance has been slowed by sharp-shooters and suicide attacks by terrorists still occupying the city.

Meanwhile, the UN agency for refugees notes that more than 125,000 people have been displaced by the fighting in and around Mosul.
