

Thailand Declares State of Emergency Amid Protests

Bangkok, January 23 (RHC)-- Thailand has declared a state of emergency in the capital Bangkok amid continued protests against Prime Minister Yingluck Shinawatra.

Thousands of demonstrators have set up encampments and blocked roads in a bid to force Yingluck's departure and replace her with an unelected "people's council." Yingluck has called a snap election for early next month which she is expected to win.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/12200-thailand-declares-state-of-emergency-amid-protests>

Radio Habana Cuba