

Ecuador Voting Begins for People with Disabilities, Inmates

Quito, April 1 (RHC-teleSUR), -- The South American nation of Ecuador held a "Vote at Home" day to facilitate voting for people with disabilities in the second round of the presidential elections.

Voters were given two ballots with the two candidate lists in the runoff elections, Lenin Moreno and Jorge Glas for the PAIS Alliance and the opposition coalition CREO-SUMA with Guillermo Lasso and Andres Paez.

More than 800 Ecuadoreans with disabilities cast their ballots Friday in the 24 provinces of the country.

The early vote came a day after inmates detained without conviction in the 38 Social Rehabilitation Centers voted across the country.

Sunday, Ecuadoreans will head to the polls to decide between the candidates in the runoff.

Radio Habana Cuba