

Permanent Commissions of Cuban Parliament Analyse Electoral Approach

Havana, July 8 (RHC), -- From Monday, the permanent committees of the National Assembly of People's Power will begin their discussions prior to the ninth regular session in the eighth legislature of the Cuban Parliament.

Attention to voter approaches, and confrontation with crime, illegality, social indiscipline and corruption, will be common points of the ten commissions' agenda, which will analyze 79 issues from 10-12 July.

Among the topics of these three days of intense work, are those related to housing and related problems in the country, the epidemiological situation, policies on population aging, as well as analysis of the report on the draft water law which will be presented to the ordinary session of Parliament.

Radio Habana Cuba