

Websites Stage Global Action Against NSA Surveillance

Washington, February 13 (RHC)-- Thousands of websites took part in a day of protest against mass surveillance by the National Security Agency by displaying banners and encouraging a flood of calls to the U.S. Congress.

Organizers of "The Day We Fight Back Against Mass Surveillance," say lawmakers received phone calls at a rate of 5,000 per hour to back laws that would reform government spying.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/14405-websites-stage-global-action-against-nsa-surveillance>

Radio Habana Cuba