

Working Sessions Open Cuban Workers' Congress

Havana, February 18 (RHC)-- Delegates taking part in the 20th Congress of the Confederation of Cuban Workers', the CTC, will open the forum with a series of working sessions.

According to this morning's edition of Granma newspaper, national union leaders, members of company executive boards and officials in different sectors will hold working meetings as part of the first activities of some 1,200 delegates attending the Congress.

Unions with the sectors of science, public administration, education and sports will gather in working groups since their affiliates are working in all these areas.

The initial sessions are expected to provide unionists with first-hand information on their working plans and budgets, an update on the current implementation of the economic and social guidelines adopted by the Cuban Communist Party, the management of material and financial resources and the state of ongoing investment projects.

Radio Habana Cuba