

Israeli Jets Hit Targets on Lebanon-Syria Border

Beirut, February 25 (RHC)-- Israeli warplanes have launched airstrikes on targets near the border between Lebanon and Syria. There were contradictory reports on the targets of Monday's attacks, with sources in Lebanon saying the airstrikes hit inside Syrian territory.

Israeli sources, however, claimed that the warplanes bombed a target in Lebanon. Israel violates Lebanon's airspace on an almost daily basis, claiming the flights serve surveillance purposes.

The Lebanese government has filed several complaints to the United Nations over the violation of the country's airspace by the Israeli military aircraft.

Israel has carried out strikes on Syria several times since the beginning of 2013. Damascus says the attacks were aimed at helping the foreign-backed militants fighting against the government of President Bashar al-Assad.

On January 30, the Syrian army said two people were killed and five others injured in an Israeli airstrike on a research center in Jamraya, near Damascus.
