

Seven dead and two missing after sub-tropical storm Alberto hits Cuba

Havana, June 2 (RHC)-- Seven people have died and two are missing in Cuba, after heavy rains and flooding caused by Subtropical Storm Alberto hit the island, according to a report from the National Civil Defense Chief of Staff.

The two missing individuals are from the provinces of Villa Clara and Ciego de Ávila, while the seven victims -- from Ciego de Ávila, Sancti Spíritus, Villa Clara, Matanzas and Pinar del Río -- are all reported to have drowned.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/163687-seven-dead-and-two-missing-after-sub-tropical-storm-alberto-hits-cuba>

Radio Habana Cuba