

U.S. Appeals Court Orders BP to Resume Gulf Spill Payments

Houston, March 6 (RHC)-- A U.S. appeals court has rejected the oil giant BP's attempt to limit payouts stemming from its 2010 oil spill in the Gulf.

BP had accused local businesses of claiming "fictitious losses" in seeking compensation for damages from the worst offshore oil spill in U.S. history.

The ruling lifts an injunction that had frozen the payments pending a court decision on BP's suit.
