

Havana to host international biotechnology and pharmaceutical workshop

Havana, September 13 (RHC)-- An International Workshop on Business Development in the Biotechnology and Pharmaceutical Industries sector will be held in Havana November 25th through the 27th.

The website of the Cuban embassy in Italy reported that BioNegociosCuba2019 is being organized by the Cuban Biotechnology and Pharmaceutical Industries Group (BioCubaFarma), with support from the United Nations Industrial Development Organization Office for Investment and Technology Promotion in Italy.

Foreign delegates will have the opportunity to attend presentations by BioCubaFarma experts on new projects, as well as exchange directly with representatives of the Group's scientific entities.
