

Hundreds protest construction of Trump's border wall in Sonoran Desert

San Diego, November 12 (RHC)-- Hundreds of people have gathered to protest the construction of Donald Trump's border wall, which is slated to cut through the Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument deep in the Sonoran Desert.

The wall's construction is expected to destroy sites sacred to the Tohono O'odham Nation, a Native American nation whose territory is already separated by the U.S.-Mexico border.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/207370-hundreds-protest-construction-of-trumps-border-wall-in-sonoran-desert>

Radio Habana Cuba