

Sixth Round of Migratory Talks between Cuba and the Cayman Islands meets in Havana

Havana, November 21 (RHC)-- The 6th Round of Migratory Conversations between Cuba and the Cayman Islands will take place this Thursday in the Cuban capital to evaluate the behavior of the migratory flow between both parties, the Cuban Ministry of Foreign Affairs said in a press release.

In the working sessions, compliance with the Convention on Bilateral Migration will also be assessed. Likewise, participants in the gathering will analyze new cooperation actions that contribute to achieving a regular, orderly and safe migration, as well as to strengthen the fight against human trafficking and illegal smuggling of migrants, the press release added.

The Cuban delegation will be chaired by Ernesto Soberón, General Director of Consular Affairs and Cuban Residents Abroad of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.
