

FBI undertakes terrorism probe into Florida air base shooting that killed three sailors

Pensacola, December 11 (RHC)-- In Florida, the FBI is conducting a terrorism investigation after a shooting at Naval Air Station Pensacola in which a Saudi Air Force officer killed three sailors and wounded eight others on the base.

The FBI says the gunman, Mohammed Alshamrani, carried out the shooting using a Glock 9mm pistol that he bought legally.

President Trump said he received a phone call from Saudi King Salman. Trump told reporters: "They are devastated in Saudi Arabia." But Trump never used the word "terrorism," and he avoided answering any questions about why the United States is training members of the Saudi military, even as Saudi Arabia faces accusations of repeated human rights abuses in Yemen.
