

Suspect arrested in stabbing at London mosque

London, February 22 (RHC)-- In Britain, a white man has been arrested on suspicion of attempted murder after a man in his seventies was stabbed while he attended one of London's biggest mosques. The man was taken to the hospital, where he is now in stable condition.

Eyewitnesses said at least 100 people were in the mosque during the attack, and several of them helped pin down the attacker. Others said the attacker had been seen at the mosque in recent weeks.
