

AT&T forced to pull out of Venezuela due to U.S. sanctions

Dallas, May 19 (RHC)-- AT&T, one of the last major American companies still operating in Venezuela, has announced that it will immediately abandon Venezuela's pay TV market.

The Dallas, Texas-based telecommunications giant said that U.S. sanctions prohibit its DirecTV platform from broadcasting channels that it is required to carry by the Venezuelan government.

AT&T said the situation is making it impossible to comply with the legal requirements of both countries.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/223225-atampt-forced-to-pull-out-of-venezuela-due-to-us-sanctions>

Radio Habana Cuba