

Japanese prime minister says vaccine a priority for Olympics

Tokyo, May 26 (RHC)-- Japan's Prime Minister Shinzo Abe said the swift development of vaccines and effective treatments for COVID-19 are priorities towards achieving the Tokyo Olympics next year.

Abe said recovery from the coronavirus pandemic only in Japan would not be enough to hold the Games, because it involves spectators and athletes from around the world.

Abe reiterated that the government hopes to hold the Tokyo Games "in a complete form" - with spectators - as a proof of human victory against the
