

Britain to host UN climate summit in November 2021

London, May 29 (RHC)-- Britain has agreed to hold a United Nations' climate summit in November 2021, after the event originally planned for later this year had to be postponed due to the coronavirus outbreak.

Business Minister Alok Sharma said on Twitter that the dates of November 1st through the 12th next year, in 2021, had been agreed with event partners Italy and the United Nations.
