

Brazil leads death toll from coronavirus

Brasilia, June 7 (RHC)-- Brazil reported an additional 904 coronavirus deaths and 27,075 new cases over the last 24 hours, Reuters news agency reported on Sunday quoting the country's health ministry.

The Latin American nation has registered 35,930 total coronavirus deaths and 672,846 confirmed cases.

Global cases of the novel coronavirus topped seven million, according to the latest figures.

About 30 percent of those cases, or two million infections, are in the United States. Latin America has the second-largest outbreak, with over 15 percent of cases.

Globally, deaths from the novel coronavirus are approaching 400,000. Approximately three million people have recovered.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/224954-brazil-leads-death-toll-from-coronavirus>

Radio Habana Cuba