

White nationalist White House adviser Stephen Miller drafting Trump speech on race

Washington, June 12 (RHC)-- Senior White House adviser dStephen Miller is reportedly drafting a speech for President Trump to deliver about race in America.

Last November, the Southern Poverty Law Center leaked a cache of Miller's e-mails showing longtime support for white nationalism, far-right extremist ideas and racist conspiracy theories.

Miller, who co-authored President Trump's inaugural address, is the architect of Trump's zero-tolerance immigration policies, including family separations.
