

China reports eight new active cases, seven asymptomatic patients

Beijing, July 6 (RHC)-- China reported eight new coronavirus cases in the mainland for July 4th, compared with three cases a day earlier, Reuters news agency reported on Sunday quoting the health agency.

Six of the new infections were imported cases, according to a statement by the National Health Commission, while the capital Beijing reported two new cases. There were no new deaths.

China reported seven new asymptomatic patients, up from four a day earlier.

As of Saturday, mainland China had 83,553 confirmed coronavirus cases, the health authority said. China's death toll from the COVID-19 remained 4,634, unchanged since Mid-May.
