

Donald Trump vows to unilaterally reinstate UN sanctions against Iran

Washington, August 17 (RHC)-- U.S. President Donald Trump says he will unilaterally reinstate international sanctions on Tehran, after the U.N. Security Council rejected a U.S. resolution to extend the embargo on Iran.

Trump plans to claim the U.S. is still technically a “participant” in the 2015 Iran nuclear deal -- even though Trump himself withdrew from it -- and can therefore order an extension of sanctions if Iran violates the deal.

Iran called the U.N. vote a humiliating defeat, and European countries expressed doubt as to whether Trump can unilaterally force such measures.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/231858-donald-trump-vows-to-unilaterally-reinstate-un-sanctions-against-iran>

Radio Habana Cuba