

CDC warns against Thanksgiving travel as U.S. coronavirus cases hit record high

Image not found or type unknown

CDC warns against Thanksgiving travel as U.S. coronavirus cases hit record high

Atlanta, November 21 (RHC)-- The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention is calling on Americans to avoid travel over the Thanksgiving holiday, warning family get-togethers could lead to a spike in new infections and deaths.

The United States confirmed 187,000 new coronavirus infections on Thursday — the highest one-day total of any nation since the start of the pandemic. More than 2,000 people died across the U.S. on Thursday, the highest one-day death toll since May.

Disease modelers at the University of Washington School of Medicine now predict over 470,000 U.S. coronavirus deaths by March 1st — unless face masks are widely adopted, something they say would save 65,000 lives.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/240301-cdc-warns-against-thanksgiving-travel-as-us-coronavirus-cases-hit-record-high>

Radio Habana Cuba