

Ivanka Trump reportedly considering bid for U.S. Senate in Florida

Image not found or type unknown

Ivanka Trump attends the Operation Warp Speed Vaccine Summit hosted by her daddy, Donald Trump. (Photo: AFP)

Washington, December 14 (RHC)-- U.S. President Donald Trump's daughter, Ivanka, has reportedly bought an expensive plot of land in the state of Florida, indicating that she might be considering a run for U.S. Senate through the state.

Trump himself owns the Mar-A-Lago resort – as a potential base for his daughter to launch a political career of her own, The Guardian reported on Sunday. Republican incumbent Senator Marco Rubio's seat is up for grab in 2022 midterm elections.

“Ivanka definitely has political ambitions, no question about it,” a source told CNN. “She wants to run for something, but that still needs to be figured out.” Observers say that Donald Trump Jr. is another member of the Trump family potentially looking for a political future post-Trump.

Financial disclosures for Ivanka Trump and Jared Kushner show the top White House advisers earned at least $36.2 million in outside income during 2019. Ivanka Trump and her husband, Jared Kushner, are reportedly spending more than $30 million on a land lot on Miami's exclusive Indian Creek Island, which has been dubbed the “Billionaire's Bunker.”

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/242245-ivanka-trump-reportedly-considering-bid-for-us-senate-in-florida>

Radio Habana Cuba