Four Louisiana officers arrested over police brutality cases

New Orleans, February 10 (RHC)-- In the U.S. state of Louisiana, four police officers have been arrested for their involvement in cases of police brutality.

In 2019, Ronald Greene, a Black man, died in state police custody after he was choked, beaten and jolted repeatedly with a stun gun by state troopers.

Federal authorities have also launched their own investigation into Greene's killing. Other charges stem from a May 2020 car chase and arrest, when officers reportedly deactivated their body cameras and falsified use-of-force and arrest reports.
