Cuban Ambassador to Serbia presents anti-COVID-19 vaccine program

Belgrade, March 10 (RHC)-- "Cuban Vaccine Candidates: A New Hope against COVID-19" was the the topic of an online appearance of the Cuban ambassador to Serbia, Gustavo Tristá del Todo.

The 'Ambassadors' Forum,' organized by the Institute of International Politics and Economics of Belgrade, brought together in a virtual format several specialists and experts for the analysis and discussion of this important global issue.

The diplomat expressed his appreciation for the opportunity to present the Cuban story of obtaining and testing several vaccine candidates in different phases and highlighted the recent launch of the third phase of Soberana 02 this month.

Tristá del Todo explained the steps followed to develop five vaccine candidates: Soberana 01 and 02, Mambisa, Abdala and Soberana Plus, as well as their technological platforms and application methods.

He also commented on the work in progress for the application of some of these drugs to the children and adolescents, the only way to achieve the immunization of the entire population.
