

Yemeni-American activists on hunger strike call for end of U.S.-backed, Saudi-led war on Yemen

Yemeni-American activists on hunger strike call for end of U.S.-backed, Saudi-led war on Yemen (Photo: Twitter Lau-Bast)

Washington, April 7 (RHC)-- In Washington, D.C., six Yemeni American activists have been on hunger strike for ten days, protesting the U.S.-backed, Saudi-led war and blockade that have crippled Yemen's economy and created the world's worst humanitarian disaster.

The hunger strikers, who are members of the grassroots group Yemeni Liberation Movement, are demanding an end to all U.S. support for the blockade and for President Biden to pressure Saudi Arabia to end the war.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/253305-yemeni-american-activists-on-hunger-strike-call-for-end-of-us-backed-saudi-led-war-on-yemen>

Radio Habana Cuba