

Parliaments from Cuba and China boost friendly ties

Image not found or type unknown

Beijing, May 25 (RHC)-- Parliamentary leaders of China and Cuba have reportedly confirmed the strength of bilateral relations and highlighted the mutual support on issues of interest for their countries.

Li Zhanshu, Chairman of the Standing Committee of China's National People's Congress, and Esteban Lazo, President of Cuba's National Assembly of People's Power, voiced their views during a video conference on Tuesday early morning.

The Chinese leader recalled that Cuba was the first nation in the Western Hemisphere to establish diplomatic relations with his country and the two nations forged a close friendship for more than six decades.

Li reiterated Beijing's firm support to the Cuban people's struggle against the economic, commercial, and financial blockade imposed by the United States and fighting against the Covid-19 pandemic.

For his part, Lazo thanked China's invariable stance against the Washington economic siege and highlighted the positive contribution of both assemblies to the progress of the bilateral ties.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/258470-parliaments-from-cuba-and-china-boost-friendly-ties>

Radio Habana Cuba