

Minnesota Police barricade Line 3 Pipeline protest camp

Image not found or type unknown

Minneapolis, June 29 (RHC)-- In the U.S. state of Minnesota, Hubbard County sheriff's deputies have barricaded access to an encampment of water protectors who are resisting construction of the Enbridge Line 3 tar sands pipeline, which has the backing of the Biden administration.

Minneapolis, June 29 (RHC)-- In the U.S. state of Minnesota, Hubbard County sheriff's deputies have barricaded access to an encampment of water protectors who are resisting construction of the Enbridge Line 3 tar sands pipeline, which has the backing of the Biden administration.

Officers towed several of the activists' cars and made a number of arrests throughout the day. An attorney for the Indigenous-led protesters called the move "nothing less than an overt political blockade."

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/262272-minnesota-police-barricade-line-3-pipeline-protest-camp>

Radio Habana Cuba