

Vaccination mandates expand across the United States

U.S. President Joe Biden has announced that civilian federal workers in the United States will be required to get vaccinated or face regular testing.

New York Governor Andrew Cuomo has ordered all patient-facing healthcare workers at state-run hospitals to get vaccinated. All other New York state employees must get vaccinated or face testing.

In related news regarding the COVID pandemic, Google and Facebook have also announced new vaccine mandates for workers.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/265574-vaccination-mandates-expand-across-the-united-states>

Radio Habana Cuba