

CVS, Walgreens and Walmart on trial for opioid epidemic

Image not found or type unknown

Some of the largest pharmacy chains in the United States -- including CVS, Walgreens and Walmart -- are on trial in Cleveland, Ohio, for recklessly selling painkillers, fueling the deadly opioid epidemic.

Cleveland, October 5 (RHC)-- Some of the largest pharmacy chains in the United States -- including CVS, Walgreens and Walmart -- are on trial in Cleveland, Ohio, for recklessly selling painkillers, fueling the deadly opioid epidemic.

The pharmacies were sued in 2018 by two counties in Ohio. If convicted, the pharmacies could be on the hook to pay billions of dollars to help end the epidemic.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/272720-cvs-walgreens-and-walmart-on-trial-for-opioid-epidemic>

Radio Habana Cuba