Paris, October 9 (RHC)-- A virtual forum called Poniéndole corazón a Cuba is taking place this Saturday with the participation of Cubans living in different parts of the world. The participants' purpose is to ratify their support for the island and promote solidarity with the land where they were born.

All Cubans of goodwill, those who love and build, those who do their share of duty, those who are grateful; are summoned to put heart to the island that is a beacon of light on the horizon, underlines the invitation to the meeting, circulated in recent days on social media networks.

The forum provides a platform for exchanging ideas and projects to help the Caribbean country in difficult times, marked by the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic and the reinforcement of the U.S. blockade.
