

Refugees in Libya camp outside UN office to demand evacuation

In Libya, thousands of refugees have been camping outside a U.N. office in Tripoli, calling for the organization to evacuate them, following massive raids and the arrests of some 5,000 migrants over the past month.

Tripoli, October 26 (RHC)-- In Libya, thousands of refugees have been camping outside a U.N. office in Tripoli, calling for the organization to evacuate them, following massive raids and the arrests of some 5,000 migrants over the past month.

Refugees are being indefinitely detained in overcrowded Libyan prison camps, which are plagued with accusations of human rights violations, including torture.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/275046-refugees-in-libya-camp-outside-un-office-to-demand-evacuation>

Radio Habana Cuba