Cali 2021 tickets on sale, seating capacity increases to 75%

Havana, November 6 (JIT)-- Ticket sales for the First Cali 2021 Junior Pan American Games began on Friday and it was also reported that the capacity of the venues will reach 75%.

The news, according to Panam Sports, makes the fans in Valle del Cauca happy, since there are growing expectations to attend the different events and competitions of the event.

In order to determine the cost of the tickets, it was defended as a principle that the Valle de Cauca family could attend the fairs together, through comfortable prices.

Thus, those interested will have to pay between 12,500 and 25,000 Colombian pesos per ticket, which expressed in U.S. dollars means a range between three and seven approximately.

Logically, for the opening ceremony the prices will be a little higher, ranging between 50 and 90 thousand pesos (12-24 USD).

Regarding the increase of the capacity from 50 to 75 percent, José Luis Echeverry, director of Cali 2021, explained that "we abide by what was established by the National Government in order to offer the athletes, the delegations and of course the citizens all the security conditions that allow a correct development of the Games in terms of biosecurity".

At the access gates to the venues, each person will be required to show their vaccination card with at least the first dose of any of the anticovid-19 vaccines.
