

Palestinian prisoner ends hunger strike, five others continue protest against detention without charge

Solidarity rallies have been held across the occupied West Bank and Gaza to show support for five hunger-striking Palestinians who have been imprisoned by Israel without charge under so-called administrative detention.

Ramallah, November 13 (RHC)-- Solidarity rallies have been held across the occupied West Bank and Gaza to show support for five hunger-striking Palestinians who have been imprisoned by Israel without charge under so-called administrative detention.

One of the Palestinians has not eaten for 120 days and is reportedly in severe condition. A sixth prisoner ended his 113-day hunger strike on Thursday after Israel agreed to release him within three months.
