

Three civilians killed as Saudi Arabia increases strikes on Yemen

Image not found or type unknown

A view of the funeral hall building in Yemen's capital of Sana'a, which was hit in 2016 in a Saudi airstrike. (Photo> AFP)

Sanaa, December 8 (RHC)-- Saudi Arabia has accelerated deadly airstrikes on the Yemeni capital, Sanaa, and elsewhere in the country, as Yemeni army troops and fighters from allied Popular Committees continue to advance in the strategic province of Ma'rib.

Saudi fighter jets struck an area in the Sahar district of Yemen's mountainous northwestern province of Sa'ada late on Tuesday, leaving three citizens dead and several others injured, the Arabic-language al-Masirah television network reported.

Saudi warplanes also targeted Atfin area in the Kitaf wa al-Boqe'e district of the same Yemeni province, but there were no immediate reports of possible casualties and the extent of damage caused. Saudi military aircraft conducted two air raids on al-Fara' area in the same district of Sa'ada Province, without any reports about possible casualties.

Saudi fighter jets struck an area in the Sahar district of Yemen's mountainous northwestern province of Sa'ada late on Tuesday, leaving three citizens dead and several others injured, the Arabic-language al-Masirah television network reported.

Saudi warplanes also targeted Atfin area in the Kitaf wa al-Boqe'e district of the same Yemeni province, but there were no immediate reports of possible casualties and the extent of damage caused.

Saudi military aircraft conducted two air raids on al-Fara' area in the same district of Sa'ada Province, although no reports about casualties were quickly available.

Despite heavily-armed Saudi Arabia's incessant bombardment of the impoverished country, the Yemeni armed forces and the Popular Committees have grown steadily in strength against the Saudi-led invaders and left Riyadh and its allies bogged down in the country.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/279305-three-civilians-killed-as-saudi-arabia-increases-strikes-on-yemen>

Radio Habana Cuba