

89 Killed in Afghan Market Bombing; Worst Attack on Civilians Since 2001

Kabul, July 16 (RHC)-- The death toll from Tuesday's massive bombing in Afghanistan has reached 89 people, all civilians. The blast hit a crowded market in the eastern province of Paktika.

The incident said to be the deadliest militant attack on Afghan civilians since the U.S. invasion of 2001.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/28644-89-killed-in-afghan-market-bombing-worst-attack-on-civilians-since-2001>

Radio Habana Cuba