Manchester City is making important adjustments to its squad to sign Argentine striker Julian Alvarez, who is living his last games at River Plate.

Havana, June 21 (RHC)-- Manchester City is making important adjustments to its squad to sign Argentine striker Julian Alvarez, who is living his last games at River Plate.

City has a special interest in incorporating the talented player and will negotiate for Brazilian Gabriel Jesus and England's Raheem Sterling, both attacking players.

Jesus could arrive at Arsenal, a team that has a vacancy in the striker's position after the departure of Pierre Emerick Aubameyang and Alexander Lacazette to Olympique Lyon.

For his part, Sterling has been linked with Atletico Madrid, although there are no references of any negotiation or agreement.

The English club has already officially announced Norwegian striker Erling Haaland as its star signing of the season and hopes to be able to count on Álvarez from the start of next season.
