Havana, October 27 (JIT)-- The main Cuban marathon event, the Havana Marathon (Marabana), will start and finish on November 20 in front of the Ramón Fonst Multipurpose Hall in Havana.

This was confirmed to JIT by Carlos Gattorno Correa, director of the National Commission of Marabana-Maracuba Races and Walks (CNCC), in charge of organizing the race.

"We conducted a diagnosis of the circuits where Marabana was traditionally run, reaching the conclusion that it was necessary to make important changes," he added.

Gattorno pointed out the need to change the starting place for one that offered greater capacity and organizational facilities in a sports facility, with spaces for logistics and with benefits for the runners given the altitude of the terrain in the first 10 km.

Also of great interest were the locations of sites to hold cultural activities and establish points of supply and attention to the runner.

"The study was conducted by five specialists in race event organization, who have worked on marathons in different continents. Four of them are official measurers for the Association of International Marathons and Distance Races (AIMS), and three serve as judges for the international technical organization, referees for walking and sports for people with disabilities," noted Gattorno.

"The competent bodies of internal order, transit, transportation and roadways of the Havana government's insurance group were consulted to reach a consensus regarding the immediate future of Marabana, an emblematic event of Cuba's racing system," the executive concluded.

Therefore, there will be important changes in the routes of the different distances that Marabana organizes, such as the marathon (42.195 km), the half marathon (21.0975), the 10 and five kilometers.
