Havana, November 25 (RHC)-- The First Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Cuba and President of the Republic, Miguel Díaz-Canel culminated Friday his official visit to China, the last stop of an international tour of countries in Asia, Africa and Europe.

In his Twitter account, the Presidency informed that the president left Beijing, the Chinese capital, for Istanbul, Turkey, where he will make a technical stop before continuing his trip back to Cuba.

Díaz-Canel described his visit to China as successful, "with a high level of understanding and commitment from Chinese leaders," he said.

The Cuban president and the high-level delegation accompanying him began their international tour last November 16th in Algeria, after which they visited Russia and Turkey.
