

Rafael Correa Highlights Cuba's Cooperation with other Nations

Quito, August 11 (RHC) -- Ecuador's President Rafael Correa said that Cuba is a champion of international collaboration.

During his regular report to the nation over the weekend, Correa praised the support offered by Cuba as he referred to the new 200-strong medical contingent that recently arrived in his country to assist Ecuadorians in vulnerable and remote areas.

The head of state congratulated his country's Health Ministry for its advancement in the bilateral cooperation program with Cuba, which has included the services of over one thousand health specialists from the Caribbean island in the South American nation.
