

Netanyahu thanks U.S. secretary of state for Washington's unconditional support

Image not found or type unknown

"Thanks for all your money... and can you send us more?"

Tel Aviv, October 12 (RHC)-- U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken has arrived in Tel Aviv for emergency talks with Israeli officials.

Blinken was greeted by Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, who thanked the U.S. for its support against what he called the “barbarians of Hamas.”

The top U.S. official said 25 American citizens are among those killed in the latest offensive.

The U.S. has vowed to keep supporting Israel with aid and military equipment. There are also reports that Washington has begun deploying U.S. troops in the area to help the Zionist regime to maintain its illegal occupation of Palestinian territories.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/336321-netanyahu-thanks-us-secretary-of-state-for-washingtons-unconditional-support>

Radio Habana Cuba