New York, November 8 (RHC)-- Thousands of pro-Palestinian protesters have taken to the streets in New York City in support of Palestinians, as the Israeli regime continues its brutal aggression against the besieged Gaza Strip.

The demonstrators gathered in front of the City Hall on Tuesday and then began marching across the Manhattan Bridge to Brooklyn as they carried banners and waved Palestinian flags. Protesters at the rally, dubbed the 'Flood NYC Election Day for Gaza,' said they want elected leaders to hear their voices, as they called for an immediate ceasefire in Gaza.

Nerdeem Kiswani, one of the organizers of the rally said "It's a cry for freedom that we've been repeating for decades, and it's really important for these elected officials to hear that."

"We will continue to come out for Palestine, not just until the bombing stops, not just until there's a ceasefire but until the siege and blockade ends and until all of Palestine is free," Kiswani added.

Abdullah Akl, another rally organizer said, "Whether it's this Election Day or any Election Day, we will vote you out ... Us as a community, we feel for one another and so it's important for us to also show up for one another at times like this."

The Israeli military is intensifying its brutal military assault against Palestinians in the blockaded territory. Several other protest rallies have been staged in US cities over the past weeks in support of Palestinians.

Israel launched the war on Gaza on October 7 after Palestinian resistance movement Hamas launched a surprise attack, dubbed Operation Al-Aqsa Storm, into the occupied territories in response to the Israeli regime's intensified crimes against the Palestinian people.

Tel Aviv has also blocked water, food, and electricity to Gaza, plunging the coastal strip into a humanitarian crisis. According to the Gaza-based health ministry, at least 10,328 Palestinians have been killed in the strikes, most of them women and children, while nearly 26,000 others have been injured.

In an interview with Al Jazeera, the left-wing politician says world leaders are failing to act against Israel's onslaught.
