

Serbian film posters displayed in Cuba

Image not found or type unknown

The exhibition of the film posters is part of the Serbian Film Week

Havana, Jan 25 (RHC) The inauguration of an exhibition of film posters will mark the start today, in the lobby of the Chaplin room, of the Serbian Film Week, which will run in Havana until January 28.

The opening of the exhibition of Serbian posters will take place this Thursday at 11:00 local time, where works made by designers from the former Yugoslavia between 1945 and 1989 will be seen.

Then, at 5:00 p.m. local time, the Serbian Film Week will officially open with the screening at the Acapulco cinema of the fiction feature film “Once Upon a Time in Serbia” (2022), by Petar Ristovski.

In a recent press conference about this event, the counselor of the Serbian Embassy in Cuba, Jelena Živojinovi?, commented that the program includes comedy, melodrama, historical, war and social drama, all in the recent filmography of the country, especially that of the last two years. (Source: PL)

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/345373-serbian-film-posters-displayed-in-cuba>

Radio Habana Cuba