

Cuban Little League Baseball for a new champion

By Orlando González Cruz

Santi Spíritus, March 2 (RHC)-- Today begins the grand finale of the Little League baseball tournament, with the duel between the little baseball players of Santi Spíritus and Santa Clara.

It is worth mentioning that the champion of the competition will be the representative of the island in the universal tournament of the category, which will be held in Pennsylvania, United States.

The small espirituanos will host the decision of the tournament, and reach this stage after leaving the reigning champions of Bayamo on the road.

For their part, the Villaclareños have already lifted a title in these contests, and in their most recent series they left the Vegueritos de Pinar del Río on the road.

The final is agreed to the best of three games, with a double bill this Saturday.

If any of the contenders wins twice, they will be crowned champions of Cuba; if there is a division of honors, we will have to wait until Sunday to find out who is the king of children's baseball on the island.
