Los Angeles, May 6 (RHC)-- The protests in favor of Palestine and the cessation of the genocide of Israel in the universities of the United States were described as aberrant this Sunday by the president of Argentina and well-known pro-Zionist, Javier Milei.

When describing them as “anti-Semitic behavior,” the president said that “it seems like an aberration to me and the behavior that is occurring in some universities and protected by the university authorities seems aberrant.”

The Argentinian head of state believes he is “on the right side of history” by supporting Israel's genocide against Palestine in the Gaza Strip, which has already cost the lives of more than 34,000 Palestinians.

In the United States, more than 60 universities mobilized to demand an end to the violence in Gaza and some 300 people have been arrested due to protests at Columbia University and City College. Among the universities that have joined the demonstrations are those of New York, Boston, Connecticut, California, Michigan, among others.

As part of Javier Milei's visit this Sunday to Los Angeles, United States, to participate in a forum with businessmen and executives, and where he will meet with businessman and magnate Elon Musk, Milei assures that that country is an ally "regardless of that it be governed by a Democrat or a Republican."
