

*Iran's top judge says
revolutionary diplomat Amir-Abdollahian played valuable role in advancing resistance front*

Image not found or type unknown

Iran's Judiciary Chief Gholamhossein Mohseni-Ejei pays a visit to the home of Foreign Minister Hossein Amir-Abdollahian to offer condolences to the family of the top diplomat over his martyrdom, in Tehran on May 21, 2024.

Tehran, May 21 (RHC)-- The Iranian judiciary chief has praised Foreign Minister Hossein Amir-Abdollahian, who lost his life in a helicopter crash alongside President Ebrahim Raisi, as a revolutionary diplomat who played a valuable role in promoting the resistance front.

Amir-Abdollahian was a diplomat and a revolutionary figure that made endeavor "for the sake of God" and "played a valuable role in advancing the affairs and sacred goals of the resistance front," Gholamhossein Mohseni-Ejei said on Tuesday as he visited the top diplomat's home.

He also noted that Amir-Abdollahian dealt with issues in the field of diplomacy and foreign policy in a "prudent and wise" manner and not using a one-dimensional approach.

Image not found or type unknown

The late Iranian Foreign Minister Hossein Amir-Abdollahian

Raisi, Amir-Abdollahian and six others died on Sunday, when their helicopter crashed in foggy weather in the mountains near the northwestern border with Azerbaijan. The charred wreckage of the aircraft was found early on Monday after an overnight search.

Mohseni-Ejei said the martyrs of the tragic incident did their best to improve the situation of the country and the people and thus they were rewarded with martyrdom.

Radio Habana Cuba