

U.S. nurse begins hunger strike outside White House, affirming that silence is complicity

Image not found or type unknown

A large, thick gray 'X' is drawn over a white square area, which is part of a larger rectangular frame. The 'X' is composed of two diagonal lines that intersect in the center. The lines are solid and have a consistent thickness. The white square is centered within the frame, and the 'X' covers most of its area. The background of the entire page is a light gray color.

Image Credit: CODEPINK

Washington, June 1 (RHC)-- A New York nurse has launched a hunger strike outside the White House and is calling on all healthcare providers to oppose U.S. support for Israel's genocidal assault on Gaza.

Jennifer Koonings said in a statement: "The immeasurable trauma that children in Gaza are experiencing is horrifying and completely unjustifiable. Children's brains and bodies are fragile and still growing, and they are being starved, bombed, and traumatized beyond belief. ... At this point, silence is complicity."

Earlier this week, 25 U.S. federal law clerks issued a rare public statement condemning "our government's complicity in genocide." The statement was published anonymously as judges and clerks are forbidden to engage in protest or other political activity.

The U.S. law clerks wrote: "Although the rules of the judiciary prevent us from publicly advocating at this time, we write this letter as a small gesture of our love and solidarity."

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/356204-us-nurse-begins-hunger-strike-outside-white-house-affirming-that-silence-is-complicity>

Radio Habana Cuba