

Manu Pineda calls for unity and fraternity in face of attempted coup in Bolivia

Madrid, July 1 (RHC)-- A prominent Spanish political activist has called for unity and fraternity in Bolivia, following last week's attempted military coup.

Manuel "Manu" Pineda Marín, a member of the United Left (Izquierda Unida), issued an appeal to Bolivian President Luis "Lucho" Arce and former President Evo Morales to come together and fight the common enemy.

🇪🇺 UNIDAD Y FRATERNIDAD FRENTE AL ODIOS DE CLASE Y AL GOLPISMO

Compañeros Lucho y Evo, el enemigo es poderoso, agresivo, crímin hay línea roja que no esté dispuesto a cruzar.

Ya lo hizo en 2019, derrocando violentamente al hermano @evoe y perpetrando masacres como las de Sacaba y Senkata.

Ayer hubo un nuevo intento de golpe militar contra el hermano @LuchoXBolivia. Afortunadamente, esta vez los pueblos de #Bol pudieron pararlo. Pero no lo olvidemos, el enemigo está ahí fuera acechando, buscando su momento. Es necesaria la unidad de la dirigencia, acabar con las divisiones. No les demos facilidades.

Hermanos y hermanas bolivianos, Unidad frente al enemigo, Frat entre hermanos.

"Comrades Lucho and Evo, the enemy is powerful, aggressive, criminal. There is no red line that they are not willing to cross."

They already did it in 2019, violently overthrowing Brother @evoespueblo.

... and perpetrating massacres such as those in Sacaba and Senkata.

Yesterday there was a new attempted military coup against brother @LuchoXBolivia.

"Fortunately, this time the people of #Bolivia were able to stop it. But let's not forget, the enemy is out there, lurking, seeking its moment. The unity of the leadership is necessary, ending divisions. Let's not make it easy for them."

Bolivian brothers and sisters, Unity against the enemy, Fraternity between brothers.
