

Climate activists spray-paint Lionel Messi's mansion in Spain

Madrid, August 7 (RHC)-- In Spain, climate activists spray-painted the mansion of Argentinean football star Lionel Messi on the island of Ibiza.

The action was led by the group Futuro Vegetal, which pointed to a report by Oxfam showing that the wealthiest 1% of the world's population generate the same amount of carbon emissions as the poorest two-thirds of humanity.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/362229-climate-activists-spray-paint-lionel-messis-mansion-in-spain>

Radio Habana Cuba