

Israel's attack on school with more than 100 dead in Gaza exposes U.S. weapons use

Ramallah, August 14 (RHC)-- International media reported on Tuesday that Israel used U.S.-made weapons in its recent attack on a school in Gaza that left at least 100 Palestinians dead.

The war action occurred two days after the administration of current president Joe Biden secured "another $3.5 billion to Israel for arms purchase." According to the reports, "a small-diameter GBU-39 bomb of American manufacture was used in the Israeli attack on the school."

The attack on al-Tabin school, on the coast of the Granza Strip, left quite inhumane aftermath, as "rescue teams did not find 'a single complete body' among the fatalities, but only dismembered parts, many of which were unrecognizable."

More than 100 martyrs and around 250 wounded, all of them are civilians, including women and children. The attack was justified by Israel on the basis of the arguments it usually offers in response to such actions -- and which are almost always false: "The site was used by Hamas as a command center."
